FREMONT, May 22, 1867. EDITORS JOURNAL:-A stranger visiting remont would be struck with its air of thrift and business, its pleasant locality, and the genial, hospitable bearing of the citizens. He would note it down comparing it with other inland towns, as eminently vigorous in its enterprise, healthy in its youth, and commercially prosperous. One who had known it fifteen or twenty years ago, would feel the strong contrast presented between the Fremont of to-day, and the 'low, black piratical-looking" town which once stood here, bearing another name; an unhealthy locality retarded its early youth, though situated so as to unite a rapid settlement; a minsmal influence enervated the people who settled here, gave them a sallow hue, and demoralized their energies.

But all this has passed away; the town is healthy, new inhabitants have come and settled, business has worn new and various channels for energy to flow in, and social never seen such a long spell of weather as life has dressed itself in comfort and refinement. MALARIA EVERYWHERE. - Rarely has there been a season as fruitful as this of malar-ious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the west; not merely in all the old baunts of Fever and Ague and Billions Remitent Fever, have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have wen ascended the mountains and attacked thou ands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of nature above their reach. Hence we are orspelled to admit that a fearful element pervades the Universal Air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its con-sequences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so perfect, an alters tive so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure, that it coables the human system to resist and baffe all the predisposing causes of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with this powerful defersive medicine may walk a fever scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere.
